Looking forward to a very successful planning workshop.

Workshop Information

July 5, 2012

Dear Participants:

We are looking forward to seeing you next week at the AppLCC ISC Planning Workshop in Blacksburg. This email provides some additional background as requested at last week's call/webinar – to provide you with more information on what our neighboring LCCs and partners have been working on. We prepared a series of Video presentations that are posted on our website that introduces several initiatives and tools. The links are provided below to a few key presentations that we would encourage you to view; most are short, approximately 15-17 minutes in length.

Additional meeting materials and the agenda will follow in a separate email.

Video List

- How LCCs fit within the Regional Conservation Framework
(illustrative example of the work from the North Eastern states and North Atlantic LCC; presented by Ken Elowe, USFWS NE Region)
- Overview of the various landscape planning tools - Part 1 (Rob Baldwin, Clemson University)
- Overview of the various landscape planning tools - Part 2 (Rob Baldwin, Clemson University)

And the tools and approaches being developed by neighboring LCCs

- Representative Species Approach and Designing Sustainable Landscapes tools (North Atlantic LCC; Andrew Milliken)
- The Conservation Planning Atlas (Gulf Coast Plains LCC and Ozark LCC; John Tirpak)
- Optimal Conservation Strategy decision support model (South Atlantic

LCC, Rua Mordicai)

Threats assessments and how to models to help inform and guide future land-use decisions:

- As they relate to Energy Development (Nels Johnson and Tamara Gagnolet, TNC-PA)
- As they relate to Urbanization (Todd Jones-Farrand, ABC)
- As they relate to efforts at the Federal level to coordinate among all agencies across the Southeast with program being implemented in overlapping areas to better plan and to be more efficient and effective manner (Rick Durbrow, EPA - Region 4)
